MONTRÉAL

JUNE 8 AND 9, 2027

Welcome

Dear partners and stakeholders in healthcare architecture,

Designing the healthcare facilities of tomorrow requires making choices today that will have an impact for decades to come. How can we create facilities capable of evolving with users' needs, supporting the work of healthcare teams, and responding to the realities of communities? These questions will be at the heart of the 4th Quebec edition of the Health Architecture Days, to be held on June 8 and 9, 2027, at the Centre des sciences in Montreal's Old Port.

Over the years, the Health Architecture Days have forged connections between Quebec stakeholders, their colleagues from other Canadian provinces, and European partners. For this edition, we aim to continue our commitment to putting this collective wealth to work for projects: sharing lessons learned from the field, examining proven approaches, and opening a discussion on the many challenges that remain to be addressed.

Healthcare architecture lies at the intersection of several requirements: the quality of the user experience, operational efficiency, evolving practices, and environmental responsibility. The challenge is not merely to consider these factors separately, but to understand how to reconcile them in decisions regarding the design, construction, and use of facilities.

How can we plan for a building's adaptation without compromising its functionality? How can we integrate digital technology in a meaningful and sustainable way? How can we truly incorporate the experiences of patients and staff into the design? And how can we better align a project's ambitions with the day-to-day reality of care and services? These are all questions we invite you to explore together so that we can create real added value through our projects

Managers, decision-makers, architects, clinicians, engineers, researchers, patients, and citizens: each brings unique knowledge and perspectives. JAS 2027 will provide a space to bring these insights together, discuss options, and foster collaboration between those who design facilities and those who use them.

We look forward to seeing you in Montreal for two days of experience-based, action-oriented discussions. Come share your achievements, questions, and ideas: it is by learning together that we can advance these projects and their contribution to the care and services provided to our fellow citizens.

JOURNÉES de l'ARCHITECTURE en SANTE

MONTRÉAL
Centre des Sciences - Vieux-Port
JUNE 8 AND 9, 2027

Centre des Sciences - Montréal

The Montreal Science Center is a science museum and a venue that hosts numerous events. It is located on the site of former maritime warehouses at King Edward Wharf in Montreal's Old Port. The rooms in Montreal's Old Port feature large floor-to-ceiling windows and terraces that offer breathtaking panoramic views of the St. Lawrence River and all of Montreal, both day and night.

Hospital Tour

At each edition, the organizers of the Journées de l'Architecture en Santé offer conference attendees an exclusive tour of a flagship healthcare facility in the region. Whether recently completed or still under construction, these tours provide participants with an opportunity to enrich their experience with new insights and discover how architecture can profoundly transform the quality of patient care and the patient experience.
During previous editions, JAS conference attendees were able to visit the Québec University Hospital Center (CHU de Québec), the Sainte-Justine University Hospital Center (CHU Sainte-Justine), and the Sacré-Cœur-de-Montréal Hospital.

Networking Cocktail

The organizers of the Healthcare Architecture Days are pleased to invite all conference attendees to their traditional networking cocktail reception in the heart of the Science Center on Tuesday at the end of the day. This social gathering provides an opportunity to foster professional exchanges and connections.

Organization

H-event is the organizing firm behind the Healthcare Architecture Days in Belgium, France, and Quebec. H-event has assembled a team of professionals with 15 years of expertise and know-how in organizing professional events. Thanks to its experienced multidisciplinary teams—including sales, marketing, communications, and logistics—and its knowledge of healthcare facilities, H-event offers a comprehensive range of services to meet all of its clients' expectations.

GENERAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF SALE

Journées de l'Architecture en Santé – Québec
Events – Registration and Ticket Sales
Last updated: November 5, 2026

ORGANIZER

The organizer and seller is H EVENT, a non-resident company subject to GST and QST under business number 73401 1 232 RTOOO 1, with its headquarters located at:
30 Avenue des Avoraux – 69250 Albigny-sur-Saône – France
Email: jas@ja-sante.quebec
Phone: +1 4380367-2357
Hereinafter referred to as "H-EVENT" or "the Organizer."

SCOPE OF APPLICATION

These General Terms and Conditions of Sale apply to any registration for a convention, seminar, conference, tour, activity, or other event organized by H-EVENT in Quebec, whether in person or, where applicable, remotely, hereinafter referred to as the "Event."
The "Client" refers to the individual or legal entity that completes the registration and is responsible for payment. The "Participant" refers to the person who actually takes part in the Event.
Any registration implies that the Client has read and accepted these General Terms and Conditions of Sale.
Essential information regarding each Event—including dates, times, location, program, included services, and rates—is specified in the registration documents and on the Event's website.
The applicable general terms and conditions are those in effect at the time the registration is completed. H-EVENT may modify them for future registrations, provided that such modifications do not have retroactive effect on contracts already entered into.
The mandatory provisions of the Consumer Protection Act, the Civil Code of Québec, and any other applicable legislation take precedence over any provision in these terms and conditions to the contrary.

REGISTRATION – FORMATION OF THE CONTRACT

Registration is completed using the form provided by H-EVENT, specifically on the Event Website or via a registration form submitted in writing.
Before confirming a registration made remotely, the Customer must be able to clearly review the essential details of the Event, the price, applicable taxes, payment terms, the date and location of the Event, as well as the cancellation, modification, and refund policies.
Where required by applicable law, the Customer has the opportunity, prior to the conclusion of the contract, to review their registration, correct it, or cancel it.
A registration confirmation, accompanied by the required contractual information and, if applicable, an invoice, is sent to the Customer in a format that the Customer can retain.
Unless otherwise expressly agreed upon with H-EVENT, registration is not finalized until confirmed by the Organizer and the required amount has been paid.

RATES – TAXES – PAYMENT POLICY

Rates are listed per Participant.
Unless otherwise clearly communicated to the Client, prices are quoted in Canadian dollars. When another currency is used, it is expressly indicated before the registration is finalized.
The advertised price includes all mandatory fees charged by H-EVENT to provide the advertised service. Legally applicable taxes, including the Goods and Services Tax (GST) and the Quebec Sales Tax (QST), may be added to the advertised price in accordance with applicable law.
The rates applicable on the date of billing are those set forth in current regulations.
Payment may be made using the payment methods offered by H-EVENT on the registration form or on the invoice: credit card, bank transfer, or any other method expressly accepted by the Organizer.
H-EVENT may request information reasonably necessary to verify the Customer's identity, for billing purposes, and to prevent fraud.

CANCELLATION BY THE CUSTOMER OR PARTICIPANT

Unless otherwise specified at the time of registration, all confirmed registrations are final and non-refundable.
A simple change of mind, the Participant's personal unavailability, a change in the Participant's work schedule, or any other personal circumstance does not entitle the Participant to a refund, subject to the rights expressly granted to consumers under applicable law.
A registration may not be assigned, resold, or transferred to a third party without the prior consent of H-EVENT. The Organizer may, however, authorize, upon written request from the Client, the replacement of a Participant with another person.
When a Client is considered a consumer within the meaning of the Consumer Protection Act and the registration was concluded remotely, the Client retains all rights of rescission granted by law, particularly when obligations regarding information disclosure, contract delivery, or service performance are not met.
No provision of these terms and conditions may have the effect of waiving or limiting a right that the consumer cannot legally waive.

BADGE AND ACCESS REQUIREMENTS

Each registration is valid only for the Event and the Participant to whom it pertains.
The Participant may be issued a personalized badge or any other form of access pass. This pass is personal and may not be lent, reproduced, or transferred to a third party without authorization.
H-EVENT may conduct reasonable checks to ensure that the person using a badge or access pass is indeed the registered Participant.
When the Event includes digital access, the login credentials provided to the Participant are personal, confidential, and non-transferable.

PARTICIPANT BEHAVIOR

Each Participant must behave in a manner that is respectful of other participants, speakers, staff, exhibitors, and service providers at the Event.
In particular, behavior that is threatening, violent, discriminatory, harassing, abusive, or likely to compromise the safety or smooth running of the Event is prohibited.
It is also prohibited, without prior authorization from H-EVENT:
access areas reserved for speakers, staff, or service providers;
go on stage or intentionally interrupt a presentation; damage equipment, facilities, or premises;
engage in unauthorized commercial solicitation, distribution, or promotional activities;
bring or consume illegal substances;
bringing alcoholic beverages into the Event that have not been authorized by the Organizer; making recordings or broadcasts prohibited under the conditions set forth below.
H-EVENT may deny access to or ask any person to leave the Event if their behavior compromises safety, seriously harms other participants, or disrupts the course of the Event. Such exclusion resulting from a serious breach by the Participant does not entitle the Participant to a refund of the registration fee, subject to mandatory provisions of law.
Animals are not permitted on the Event grounds, except in cases where they are service animals or where their presence is required by applicable law.
H-EVENT strives to facilitate access to the Event for people with special needs. Participants are asked to inform the Organizer as soon as possible of their accommodation needs so that reasonably necessary measures can be considered.

CHANGE TO THE SCHEDULE

The Event program is prepared in good faith based on the information available at the time of its publication.
H-EVENT may make changes to the program as circumstances require, particularly in the event of a speaker's unavailability, or changes to the schedule, venue, or order of appearances.
Changes that do not affect the essential nature of the Event do not entitle the Customer to a refund.
When a change substantially affects the purchased service, H-EVENT will notify the affected Customers as soon as possible and apply the rights and remedies provided for by applicable law.

POSTPONEMENT, CHANGE IN FORMAT, AND CANCELLATION OF THE EVENT

If the Event is rescheduled, registration is generally automatically transferred to the new date.
When a change in date, location, or format constitutes a substantial modification to the service, a Client who does not wish to or is unable to participate in the modified Event may request cancellation of their registration and a refund of the amounts paid for that registration, subject to the terms and conditions provided by H-EVENT and in accordance with applicable law.
The substantial conversion of an Event originally announced as an in-person event into an exclusively digital Event is considered a significant change. In such cases, H-EVENT will offer the Customer the option to either maintain the registration for the new format or receive a refund of the registration fee, unless a legal provision or special circumstance permits a different solution accepted by the Customer.
In the event of a complete and definitive cancellation of the Event by H-EVENT, the registration fees actually paid to the Organizer will be refunded to the Client.
Unless otherwise provided by law, H-EVENT is not liable for expenses incurred directly by the Participant with third parties, including travel, lodging, meals purchased outside the Event, or other personal expenses.

FORCE MAJEURE

H-EVENT cannot be held liable for any failure to perform or delay in the performance of its obligations when such failure or delay results from an event constituting a force majeure event within the meaning of the Civil Code of Québec, that is, an unforeseeable and unavoidable event. Such events may include, where they meet the legal criteria for force majeure, a natural disaster, a major fire, a public health emergency, a prohibition or restriction imposed by a public authority, a major disruption to transportation or infrastructure, or any other event beyond H-EVENT's control that makes it impossible to hold the Event under the agreed-upon conditions.
The consequences of a force majeure event on amounts already paid are determined in accordance with the Civil Code of Québec and other applicable legal provisions.

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

The lectures, presentations, texts, documents, photographs, videos, illustrations, presentation materials, and other content distributed as part of the Event may be protected, in particular, by the Canadian Copyright Act.
The corresponding rights belong to their respective authors, rights holders, or successors in title.
Unless expressly authorized in writing by H-EVENT and, where necessary, by the relevant rights holder, it is prohibited to record, reproduce, broadcast, retransmit, commercialize, or make available to the public all or part of a lecture, presentation, or protected content, except as expressly permitted by law.
Taking notes for personal use remains permitted.
Registration for the Event does not confer upon the Participant any intellectual property rights to the content to which they have access.

PHOTOS – VIDEOS – IMAGE RIGHTS

Participants are informed that photographs and audiovisual recordings may be taken during the Event for documentation, informational, and promotional purposes.
In particular, H-EVENT may take general shots of the Event, the rooms, the exhibition space, conferences, and social gatherings, in compliance with applicable law.
When the use of a photograph or video for promotional or commercial purposes specifically highlights an identifiable Participant, H-EVENT will obtain the Participant's consent when required by law.
Acceptance of these terms and conditions does not, in and of itself, constitute a general and unlimited authorization to commercially exploit a Participant's individual image.
Specific authorizations may be requested, particularly for portraits, interviews, testimonials, dedicated film shoots, or photo sessions in which the Participant is the main subject.
A Participant who wishes to raise a specific objection regarding the use of their image may notify H-EVENT. The Organizer will take reasonable measures to accommodate this request while respecting everyone's rights and the constraints inherent in a group event.

PRIVACY POLICY

H-EVENT collects only the personal information necessary for organizing and managing the Event, including to process registrations, issue invoices, receive payments, issue badges, provide practical information, control access, and respond to Participants' requests.
This information is processed in accordance with applicable Quebec legislation regarding the protection of personal information in the private sector.
H-EVENT has a Privacy Officer whose title and contact information are made available in accordance with the law:
Privacy Officer: Mr. ENTIBI DAVID
Email: jas@ja-sante.quebec
Personal information may be disclosed to employees and service providers who need access to it to ensure the organization of the Event, including providers of payment, IT hosting, registration, communication, or technical management services.
When personal information must be disclosed or stored outside of Quebec, H-EVENT applies the measures provided for by Quebec law, including the required privacy impact assessments and safeguards.
Information is retained only for as long as necessary for the purposes for which it was collected, plus any retention periods required by applicable legal, tax, accounting, or contractual obligations.
Under the conditions provided by law, every individual has rights regarding their personal information, including the rights of access and correction, as well as, where applicable, the right to withdraw previously given consent.
Any request regarding the protection of personal information may be directed to H-EVENT's Data Protection Officer.
A detailed privacy policy is available to users on the Event Website.

MARKETING COMMUNICATIONS

Communications necessary for processing the registration—including confirmations, practical information, program changes, and information regarding the Event's proceedings—may be sent to the Client and the Participant as part of their registration.
Any subsequent sending of commercial electronic communications is carried out in accordance with applicable Canadian law, including rules regarding consent, sender identification, and opt-out procedures. Each recipient may use the opt-out mechanism provided in the relevant commercial communications.

CONTRACT LANGUAGE

These general terms and conditions are available in French.
When a version in another language is offered, the French version must first be made available in accordance with the requirements of the Charter of the French Language.
The Customer or Participant may choose to enter into a contract in another language when the conditions set forth in Quebec law are met.

LIABILITY

Each Participant remains responsible for his or her personal belongings during the Event.
Subject to mandatory legal provisions, H-EVENT shall not be held liable for the loss, theft, or damage of personal belongings resulting from an event beyond its control.
No provision of these terms and conditions is intended to, or shall have the effect of, excluding or limiting liability where such exclusion or limitation is prohibited by law.

GOVERNING LAW

These Terms and Conditions, as well as the registrations to which they apply, are governed by the laws in force in the Province of Quebec and by the applicable federal laws of Canada.
Any dispute shall be submitted to the competent courts of Quebec, subject to the mandatory rules of jurisdiction applicable, in particular, to consumers.
The parties are encouraged, prior to any legal proceedings, to attempt to resolve their dispute in good faith by contacting H-EVENT.

FINAL PROVISIONS

If any provision of these terms and conditions is declared null and void, unenforceable, or of no effect, the remaining provisions shall remain in full force and effect to the fullest extent permitted by law.
H-EVENT's failure to immediately exercise a right provided for herein shall not constitute a waiver of that right.
Registration for the Event confirms that the Customer had the opportunity to review these general terms and conditions before entering into the contract and that the Customer accepts them, subject to any rights that the Customer cannot legally waive.

JOURNÉES de l'ARCHITECTURE en SANTE

MONTRÉAL

Centre des Sciences - Vieux-Port

JUNE 8 AND 9, 2027

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE EVENT

- Inspiring presentations: Featuring renowned speakers, including architects, facility directors, engineers, doctors, and policymakers.
- Tours of Model Facilities: Québec University Hospital, Sainte-Justine University Hospital, Montreal University Hospital…
- Networking: Collaboration among various stakeholders in healthcare and architecture, and meetings with industry representatives.

WHY PARTICIPATE?

The JAS offers a unique opportunity for healthcare and architecture professionals to:

- Discover practical solutions to the growing challenges facing healthcare facilities.
- Discuss ambitious projects that combine sustainability, appeal, and innovation.
- Draw inspiration from international best practices to transform healthcare environments.

ABOUT THE JAS

Since 2019, the Journées de l'Architecture en Santé (JAS) have established themselves as an international benchmark for thought leadership and innovation in hospital architecture. Following events in Menton, France, and Brussels, Belgium, it was only natural for the JAS to make its home in Quebec to continue bringing together the brightest minds to rethink healthcare spaces.

The Journées de l'Architecture en Santé return to Montreal on June 8 and 9, 2027. Following an exceptional edition at the CHU de Québec in 2026, the JAS returns to the Centre des Sciences in Montreal's Old Port. This must-attend event brings together key players in hospital architecture, healthcare, and technological innovation to collectively envision the design of future hospitals. Organized by H-Event, the JAS offers a unique platform for sharing best practices, exploring new trends, and strengthening collaborations in the healthcare sector.

A RICH PROGRAM

The next edition will feature high-level conferences, interactive workshops, and case studies led by key industry players.

The key themes of this edition:
Architectural design and innovation, sustainable and eco-responsible healthcare environments, international architectural culture, medical-social care, the city-hospital ecosystem, E-architecture: Hospital 5.0…

PARTICIPANTS WITH VARIED PROFILES

Architects, Urban Planners, Engineers, Contractors, Facility Directors, Infrastructure, Construction, or Technical Services Managers, Hospital Engineers, Physicians, Patient Partners, Researchers, Policy Makers, Government Agencies . . .
